

Super Why Introduces New Character, Woofster

By Amanda Rock, About.com Guide August 21, 2011

My Bio | Headlines | Forum | RSS

Super Why, the popular animated series for preschoolers that focuses on literacy, is introducing a brand new character this fall.

Beginning September 12 on PBS KIDS, Woofster, a sweet dog with "Dictionary Power!" will be joining the gang. To welcome him, five brand-new episodes will air for "Meet Woofster Week."

"Super WHY is a great way to reinforce important literacy skills and, with the universal appeal of puppies among preschoolers, the new addition to the animated cast will help get young viewers even more excited about joining in the book-inspired fun, while they develop a life-long love of reading," said Angela C. Santomero, co-creator and executive producer of the series.

A visit to the Super Why website will yield lots of games, videos, activities and prize cards starring the whole crew. Plus, Woofster will have his own page and a "doggie dictionary."

Does your preschooler like Super Why?

Follow me on Twitter. Become a fan on Facebook. Subscribe to my newsletter.

Image: PBS Kids